SOUTH GUILTY, JURY'S VERDICT

Beatrice Youth Is Convicted of First Degree Murder Charge in Brutal Slaying of Farmer —Life Imprisonment Recommended.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 23.—After being out eighteen hours the jury in the case of Francis South brought in a verdict of murder in first degree at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and recommended life imprisonment. South, Beatrice boy, 20, was charged with murdering Charles Wolf, teamster here, who was slugged and robbed on the night of November 29 in the J. H. Vonsteen barn, where he had gone to do his chores.

Judge Colby gave his final instructions to the jury in the case of the state against Francis South shortly after 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. He directed that if a verdict of guilty be found the jury fix the degree, either for life imprisonment or death.

The attorneys for the state, County Attorney H. F. Mattoon and Walter Vasey, and Lloyd Crocker and S. D. Killen for the defense spent the day arguing the case, and immediately after the instructions by the judge the jurors retired.

The court announced that the trial of George Warren, charged with the murder of Charles Wolf, in that he was an accessory after the fact, was to be taken up Tuesday morning. Warren has testified as a witness for the state.

J. H. WILLIS AND DAUGHTER, 14, TRAPPED IN FIRE

Firemen Make Rescue When Smoke Fills House Late Monday Night.

Firemen rescued J. H. Willis and his daughter, Harriett, 14 from a possible death by suffocation by carrying them out of their smoke filled sleeping rooms and over the roof to safety Monday night.

About 11 o'clock a man walking by the Willis home at 1545 South Twenty-eighth street noticed a blaze in the basement and turned in the alarm.

Mrs. Willis and two other children were able to get out of the house without assistance. Harriett and her father were trapped upstairs, being unable to make their escape because of the dense smoke.

The family was asleep and was not aware of the blaze until aroused by neighbors.

The fire started in a barrel of trash in the basement, the exact origin being unknown. There was no fire in the furnace.

The fire did very little damage besides filling the rooms with smoke, according to Chief Hansen.

MEDICAL MEASURE UP FOR PASSAGE

Scientists and Physicians Of All Schools May Attend Patients In Institutions.

Committee On Privileges and Elections Busily Engaged In Killing Bills.

Christian Science healers and physicians of all schools and cults will be permitted to attend patients in state institutions and have at their disposal all the facilities thereof, under the terms of a bill approved for passage in the yower wing of the lawmaking assembly, Tuesday forenoon.

There is to be no expense to the state for such attendance, but the bill merely gives institution inmates or their friends outside the right to have any practitioner of a recognized school call upon and treat them, at their own expense.

Messrs. Whitehead and Colman, the two physicians in the chamber, asked to have the bill laid over, but Mr. Davis of Cass, farmer, chairman of the committee on medical societies, insisted on its going through at once, and the doctors were overridden.

Mattress Bill Is Dead.

Representative Beldings first legislative effort—a bill to forbid the sale of second hand mattresses—has been sunk without a trace by the committee on manufacture and commerce, which recommended it for the morgue.

Another torpedoed bill is that of Mr. Beuhausen giving the railway commission power to fix salaries and wages of telephone company officers and employes.

Chairman Lundy of the committee on privileges and elections has been vested with the title of "lord high executioner" for the house. His committee has more than a dozen scalps already dangling from its belt. Four were added Tuesday. These were bills allowing deaf and dumb voters to communicate with election judges in writing or by signs, limiting county treasurers to one term, requiring each polling place to be on the ground floor of a building, and providing for a counting board in every precinct with 100 or more votes.

The only bill favorably reported by this committee Tuesday provides that one of the three regular election judges shall act with the counting board, thus giving it two judges and leaving the receiving board two.

Passes Crow and Hawk Bill.

Having passed a 10-cent crow bounty bill Monday, the house followed it up Tuesday by passing another which takes crows and hawks from under the protection of the state game laws.

S. F. No. 1, the Reed bill reducing salaries of code secretaries, was reported out for the general file by the committee on fees and salaries. Republican leaders in the legislature are rushing this bill through as a sop to public sentiment over the state, in order to block Governor Bryan's plans for a reorganization of the state administrative departments and weeding out the dead timber.

Tender of the Grand Island soldiers' home to the United States government for conversion into a hospital for disabled war veterans, as provided for in H. R. 117, will soon be considered by the house, as the bill is now on its calendar.

PINN, CONVICTED OF PERJURY, ASKS FOR HIS LIBERTY

Well Known Farmer Sent to Prison From Kearney County.

Youth Doing Term For Stealing Overcoats Applicant For Parole.

Thirty-one applicants for paroles or pardons were listed to appear before the new board of paroles and pardons when it met in its first official session at the penitentiary Tuesday morning, with Governor Bryan presiding and Attorney General Spillman and Secretary of State Pool, both present.

Five cases were considered during the morning, with indications that the board would proceed much faster later in the day. The application of Louis J. Pinn, the only man ever convicted and senteced for perjury whose prise sentence for that offense was confirmed by the supreme court, was the first considered.

Mr. Pinn is fifty-nine years old and a prosperous farmer near Minden in Kearney county. He has a wife ad seve cnildre. It was rought out at the hearing that the charge of perjury grew out of a prolonged family row over his mother's estate for which he was executor and administrator. The alleged perjury was committed during proceedings in that litigation, but Pinn claims he was not guilty of giving false testimony. Lengthy petitios in his behalf from neighbors and from ten of the jurors convicting him were offered as well as considerable testimony as to his financial integrity and previous clear records. He has farmed in Nebraska for more than thirty years.

He went at length into the family troubles which lead to his conviction and then broke dow, uable to continue.

Pin was sentenced to serve one to fourteen years and has served more than te moths which, coutig his good behavior timen, makes him eligible to parole.

High Life Blamed.

The case of Orville E. Rogers, sentenced from Lancaster county for grand larceny for the alleged theft of overcouts from the Miller and Paine tea room, for one to seven years, occupied the longest time. J. O. ogers, Mnakato, Kansas, the boy's father, and other members of the same family, appeared on behalf of the applicant while R. D. Miller appeared to oppose clemencye at this time.

Rogers was sentenced in December, 1921, pleading guilty to the charge. He was sent to Lincoln to attned the university by his father and did well enough the first semester, it was show, ut the father found on his visit to Lincoln in March, 1921, that the boy had married although not yet eighteen years of age. Rogers admitted writing no-fund checks to obtain money on which he was married.

These ad other checks were made good by his father, who took the young couple back to Kansas with him. The boy went on the road as a traveling salesman, ut later returned to the university. The father blamed high life at the university

WANT TO CONTROL LOCAL UTILITIES

Municipal Officials Oppose Giving Railway Commission Power.

President Madgett Voices the Sentiment Of Members Of League.

Strenuous objection to placing the control of publicly owned utilities under the state railway comission was voiced by William Madgett, of Hastings, president of the League of Nebraska Municipalities which is in session here, addressing the league Tuesday afternoon. Demands that publicly owned utilities be placed under tme railway commission come chiefly from corporations, according to Mr. Madgett.

"We have no objections to the corporations placing their affairs under the control of the commission," declared the president, "but we most strenuously object to giving any outsider the absolute control of our public utilities for the very good reason that people who are familiar with local conditions are much more likely to understand and administer affairs satisfactorily, while the official who lives hundreds of miles away cares little whether a town prospers or not."

Extravagant use of public money in erecting non-productive structures was also condemned by Mr. Madgett.

"High taxes," he said, "are seldom the result of paying good salaries to efficient employes." Mr. Madgett warned the members to beware of "bargain counter officials."

The meeting was opened by Mayor F. C. Zehrung, who welcomed the delegates to Lincoln and expressed the wish that the session would be very successful.

H. S. Villars, vice president of the organization, responded to the mayor's address.

A reel of motion pictures showing the manufacture of paving bricq and the construction of brick roads was shown.

DEFENSE PLANS TO BRAND TWO BODIES 'FAKES'

Attorneys For Burnett and M'Koin, Held In Connection With Morehouse Murders Intend to Attack Identity of La Fourche Dead Men.

CONTINUES TO TEAR AWAY MYSTERY VEIL

Letter From Harold Teegerstrom to Brother Says Carbon Company Timekeeper Will Be On Hand When Wanted to Go On Witness Stand.

(International News Service.)

BASTROP, La., Jan. 23.—The two mangled bodies found floating in Lake La Fourche lake a month ago and identified as Watt Daniel and Thomas Richard, victims of a lynch mob, will be branded as "fakes" in the defense prepared for the men charged with their murder, it was learned today.

Attorneys defending both T. Jeff Burnett, former deputy sheriff, and Dr. Bunne McKoin, formerly a klan official, now under bail on a murder charge, will attack the identity of the bodies, the ascribed manner of their death and the very allegation that Daniel and Richard are dead.

This was revealed today by Judge William C. Barnette, chief of defense counsel, in an exclusive interview with the International News Service. Judge Barnette announced he would outline the defense's entire case in formal statement to be issued as soon as the open hearings end.

Will Make Statement.

"At the close of the open hearings we will make a formal statement which the whole world will be glad to accept," said Barnette. "We will call a spade a spade and the statement will begin with the corpus delecti, and follow the evidence right down to the adjournment. We will censure the klan when we think it necessary and will uphold it wherever the situation warrants such action."

The circumstantial evidence the state has thrown around the black mask terrorists of Morehouse parish today enmeshed two more men as alleged members of the hooded mob which brutally executed Daniel and Richard, last August 24.

They were Jasper N. (Jap) Jones and "Big Jim" Harper, both employes of the Southern Carbon company.

Teegerstrom Will Show Up.

(Associated Press.)

BASTROP, La.,—Clarence Teegerstrom, brother of Harold Teegerstrom, missing timekeeper of the Southern Carbon company at Spyker, who disappeared December 29 and for whom the state has been searching, in connection with its investigation into activities of masked men in Morehouse parish ,took the stand today at the open hearin here.

"Do you know where your brother, Harold, is?" he was asked.

"I do not," he replied.

"When did you last hear from him?"

Receives Letter January 10.

"I received a letter January 10."

"Where is the letter."

"I destroyed it."

Teegerstrom was given the letter by Dean Ashcroft, an employe of the Southern Carbon company, at Spyker, who said Supt. J. S. Dennett, had found it in the company's mail box. The envelope bore a two cent stamp, but no postmarks.

Harold's letter, Teegerstrom testified, declared he was safe and sound and in comfortable quarters and he would be ready to return about the twentieth, when the state wanted him and would "testify for Mr. Jeff." "Mr. Jeff," he understood to be T. J. Burnett, former Morehouse parish deputy sheriff and employe of the Carbon company and now at liberty under $5,000 bail. Burnett was arrested last month on a murder charge in connection with the kidnapping of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richard whose bodies weer found in Lake La Fourche, December 22.

Whiskey Available To Battle "Flu"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. — Orders went out from national prohibition enforcement headquarters today to let down the bars to physicians whose liquor prescription blank quotas have been exhausted.

This action was taken, Acting Prohibition Commissioner J. E. Jones said, to enable doctors to cope with the "flu" epidemic which has reached serious proportions in some sections of the country.

Andrews, Pleading Guilty Draws Fine

TOKIO, Jan. 23—The case against R. M. Andrews, prominent American business man of Tokio, accused by the Japanese police early last fall of trespassing on forbidden coast defense areas, was brought to a close today when Andrews pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the navigation laws and was fined 450 yen.

BILL TO PROVIDE OLD AGE PENSION

Measure Introduced Tuesday Morning By Senators Fries and McGowan.

Upper House Reverses Standing Committee—Oratory Order of the Day.

Among the three measures introduced in the senate Tuesday morning is a bill by Fries and McGowan to establish an old age pension system in Nebraska. It provides for a governing board to be composed of the lieutenant governor, the state superintendent and the university chancellor, and a pension commissioner drawing $2,000, with assistants as needed.

Persons over 70, who have lived in the state fifteen years and have been citizens for that length of time, are eligible for financial assistance, not to exceed $1 a day, upon recommendation of county boards. The applicant must not have property in excess of $3,000 or an annual income of over $300, must not be a "professional beggar or tramp," nor have children who should contribute to his support. Among the many rules and regulations is the proviso that the applicant for aid was never in jail to exceed four months. The bill carries an appropriation of $50,000 from the general fund, presumably to carry on the work until the legislature meets again.

Reverse a Committee.

The senate broke two session precedents Tuesday morning—took up most of the available time in oratory, and reversed a standing committee's recommendation. S. F. 21, by Osborne of Scotts Bluff, providing that the possessor of attached property may retain possession by filing a bond in excess of the property's value, was sent back to the judiciary committee, after that body had recommended it for indefinite postponement. Senator Hastings also made an attempt to revive his bill, S. F. 37, to simplify the procedure in taking cases from justice or county courts to district courts, but it was killed after Senators Cooper and Wiltse had spoke against such action.

S. F. 40, by Tomek and Gumb, to require executors and administrators to file inventories of real estate and chattels, was placed on general file, as was S. F. 61, Robbins' measure to make it a misdemeanor to tap water or gas mains. S. F. 3, by Bliss, concerning damages to be recovered by persons fraudulently in-

WELLS SPONSORS TELEPHONE BILL

Would Require Exchange, Or Central Office In Every City and Village.

Measure to Loan School Funds On Nebraska Lands Is Introduced.

"A telephone exchange central office switchboard shall be maintained by one or more telephone companies in every incorporated city or village in the state of Nebraska."

This is one of the provisions found in a bill presented in the lower house of hte legislature by Representative Wells. It does not specify the procedure for compelling a company to build and equip a plant in any town which has none, or what company shall do so.

hTe real object of the bill is to prevent the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co. from abandoning its exchange at Endicott, in Mr. Wells' county. Complaint was made by patrons there to the railway commission some time ago that the company was gradually transferring subscribers from Endicott to Fairbury and Steele City, with a view to completely dismantling the local exchange and discontinuing the service.

The Wells bill forbids abandonment of any exchange, or the removal of its central office, unless consented to by 60 per cent of the subscribers who have been served for six months or more, in a petition presented to the railway commission and approved by that body.

School Funds for Farm Loans.

State school funds would be made available for mortgage loans on Nebraska lands, under the terms of H. R. 207, introduced by Messrs. Reece, Kendall and Butcher. Only those residing on and working the lands could obtain loans. The term is fixed at twenty years and the interest rate at 5 per cent, payment to be optional after five years. Loans must not exceed 50 per cent of appraised value and the limit is $25,000.

Howell's Light Bill Appears.

The Omaha electric light bill prepared by R. B. Howell was introduced Tuesday, bearing the names of four Douglas county members—Messrs. Timme, Smith, Eisassor and George B. Collins—and Mr. Whitehead of Phelps. It permits the extension of the present municipal street lighting plant to serve commercial and residence users.

Mr. Timme also offered a bill requiring two-thirds majority to vote school bonds in the Omaha district.

FOR AND AGAINST GOVERNMENT PLAN

Holden Opposes Separation "Q" and Colorado & Southern; Gorman Likes Merger

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Mergers of western railroad systems tentatively proposed under government plans for consolidation of transportation lines continued today as topics of discussion for railroad executives called before the interstate commerce comission.

Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, suggested that the commission might be unwise in carrying out a project to consolidate the Colorado & Southern with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe.

Such disposition of the Colorado and Southern, which is a subsidiary of the Burlington, might reduce, he said, the amount of competition in railroad service to shippers throughout the territory.

On the other hand, J. E. Gorman, president of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, expressed approval of the theory of consolidation as so far worked out in the west. Inclusion of his railroad with the Southern Pacific would result, he asserted, in the creation of a railroad adequately located and extended, to maintain itself in competition with the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe system, enlarged under the commission's plan by the addition to it of other roads.

MOVES TO STOP COAL EXPORTING

Senator Walsh to Demand Home Fuel Consumer Be Cared For.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—In the face of country-wide complaints over coal shortages and the high prices being charged for the supplies available action will be started in congress this week to stop the exportation of coal to Canada until American needs are taken care of.

Senator David I. Walsh, democrat of Massachusetts, said today he will introduce a resolution in the senate this week, establishing an embargo on Canadian shipments.

The resolution will request the interstate commerce commission immediately to stop coal deliveries across the northern boundary, in an effort to relieve the growing shortage in this country, Walsh said.

Head Addresses Rotarians On Boy Scout Work

Walter Head, prominent Omaha banker, and state director of the Boy Scout movement in Nebraska, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lincoln Rotary club, which was held Tuesday noon at the Lincoln hotel. Mr. Head told of the scout work, what it meant to the growing boy, and what it meant when the boy had groyn to manhood. He told of the origin of the scout work, and of one of the largest international conventions for scout workers, that he attended in France.

The Rotary club pledged itself to raise a $10,000 fund for the scout fund for 1923.

Joe Pemberton told the club of the need of blankets for undernourished children at Bancroft school, and members of the club decided to send three and one-half dozen blankets to the school. This is in addition to the one and one-half dozen sent at Christmas time.

Elmer Henkle spoke to the club briefly on the necessity of an additional one mill levy for school tax.

OFFICE BILL BY SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The independent offices appropriation bill carrying a total of $498,211,371 was passed today by the senate without a record vote.

EDGERTON NOT TO REPRESENT INQUIRY BOARD

Special Committee, Investigating University Expenditures, Wants to Continue Its Work, However.

AURORA MAN NOT TO GO ON PAYROLL

Auten Says Defeated Candidate For Regent Will Have No Official Connection With Inquiry.

After a conference Monday evening the special committee of the house having charge of the university investigation believes the inquiry should be continued. It will so recommend to the house when the question comes up as a special order Wednesday morning.

While no statemhent was given out as to the character of the information so far secured, it is understood the committee has been investigating the purchase of supplies for the university, and that it desires to go into these matters more deeply.

Attorney Frank E. Edgerton of Aurora will have no official connection with the investigation henceforth, Chairman Auten of the special committee declared. The committee will depend mainly on its own accountant, F. M. Stapleton, to dig up the facts and figures from university records. Mr. Auten said that it was possible Edgerton would do some investigating on his own account as a citizen and a representative of the state taxpayers' league, but if so it would be independently of the committee's activities.

"Mr. Edgerton is not on the state payroll, but as an individual he has a right to make any inquiries he sees fit," Auten remarked. "Speaking for the committee, I can say that enough has been learned to justify us in going ahead with the investigation. I think the committee will be of one mind on that, and I don't believe the other fellows who were in favor Monday of discharging the committee will insist on their motion. I have had a talk with Mr. Baldridge and several others, and they probably will agree to have the committee continue its work."

C. L. Yochum, a member of the committee, also said it is a unit in favor of carrying the investigation further.

The report that Attorney Edgerton had been named by Attorney General Spillman as a special assistant from his office to work in conjunction with the committee arose from the fact that Chairman Auten and J. O. Shroyer interviewed Spillman and requested the legal department's aid. Later, Edgerton had a talk with the attorney general. Auten understood that Mr. Spillman would appoint whomever the committee wanted, and he gave out the information on that basis.

Attorney General Spillman himself, on returning Monday from his home at Pierce, said he had not appointed Edgerton or anyone else.

Trace Attack On Myron Herrick to Plateau's Slayer

PARIS, Jan. 23.—Clues indicating that Germaine Berton, young woman anarchist, who assassinated the royalist leader, Marius Plateau, was responsible for the attempt upon the life of Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador, in October, 1921, were under investigation today by Judge Jusselin, examining magistrate. These clues consisted chiefly of documents and statements the girl is said to have communicated to an anarchist friend.

M. Plateau, who was editor of the royalist newspaper L'Acton Francaise, was declared by friends to have been a victim of his own patriotism. Monarchists plan a patriotic remonstration at his funeral.

Leon Daudet, royalist member of the chamber of deputies, writing in L'Acton Francaise today, again demanded immediate occupation of Berlin by French troops.

In revenge for the assassination of the royalist chieftain, a monarchist mob attacked the offices of the socialist newspapers l'Oeuvre and l'Ere Nouvelle. Considerable damage was done to the composing rooms. Police made several arrests.

Louise Gertrude Workman.

Louise Gertrude Workman, prominent in Sheridan society and well known University of Nebraska student, passed away January 1 after an illness that began just previous to the Christmas season. Her serious illness prevented her marriage, set for the holiday season, and she was later removed to the Sheridan Memorial hospital. A reaction set in and after sinking slowly the end came peacefully. Diabetes was the cause of her death. Miss Workman was born in North Platte, Neb., December 25, 1901, coming to Sheridan when a child. Miss Workman, who was a popular member of the Class of 1919, was graduated from Greeley college for young women at Greeley, Colorado, in 1921. Miss Workman was a pupil of Mrs. Lillian Helms Polley Nebraska School of Music. Miss Workman had a good voice, was well known in musical circles and was a member of the choir of the Congregational church. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Holy Name church, Rev. Father John Duffy officiating. It was the largest funeral ever held in Sheridan. Rev Father Duffy preached a splendid sermon and paid high tribute to the life of Miss Workman, whom he had known for years. Burial was in Hope cemetery. Miss Workman is survived by her parents, Prof. and Mrs. Norman Workman, one brother and four sisters.

PACKED AUDIENCE HEARS THE FRIEDMAN CONCERT.

Ignaz Friedman, celebrated on several continents as one of the greatest of living pianists, held spellbound for two hours yesterday afternoon an audience which completely filled the Temple theatre and which refused to leave until the great pianist had returned again and again to play just once more and to acknowledge most graciously the warm instantaneous applause which followed each number. This was Friedman's second appearance in Lincoln in the last two years and on oth occasions the Matinee Musicale was responsible for bringing this great artist to Lincoln.

About the characteristic qualities found in all the playing of this pianist no new thing can be said. He is a virtuoso of the first order. He truthfully has been called the wizard of the keyboard and most assuredly did yesterday's performance reveal as a wizard of finger technique for he does things which seem almost impossible. The fire, power and speed of his playing is unexcelled. At times it was almost impossible to see his fingers so swiftly did they fly up and down the keyboard. Perhaps the most outstanding quality of his performance was his exquisite poetic pianissimo. On the other hand there was a wonderful fortissimo where such an effect was necessary.

Friedman began his program with the dainty Mozart rondo in A minor which was followed by his own arrangement of a Hummell rondo. A Chopin group was next and his Chopin was marvelous. In this he revealed a charm and poetic insight which bordered on the miraculous.

The waltz in E minor was played at a speed almost unbelievable and in the mazurkas and etudes which completed the group the delicacy and lightness of his trills and runs were exquisite. He gave a great interpretation of the Schumann "Carneval." His playing of this big number seemed almost effortless. His last group included two Schubert-Liszt transcriptions "Erlking" and "Serenade" and lastly "The Bat, Strauss-Godowsky, magically and masterfully done with technical feats of unchalantly accomplished.

Friedman played four encores. Following the Chopin group he played one of his own compositions "Elle Danse" and at the close of the "Carneval" he played "Les Reverances," also his own work. After his last program number he returned to play "Campanella" Paganini-Liszt and "Viennese Waltz" Gaertner-Friedman.

The program follows:

(a) Rondo, A Minor.....Mozart.
(b) Rondo .....Hummell-Friedman.
(a) Nocturne op. 62, No. 2..Chopin
(b) Polonaise Fantaisie.....Chopin.
(c) Waltz, E Minor .....Chopin.
(d) Two Mazurkas .....Chopin.
(e) Five Etudes .....Chopin.
—Carneval ..... Schumann
(a) Erkling .....Schubert-Liszt
(b) Serenade ..... Schubert-Liszt
(c) The Bat .....Strauss-Godowsky.

After the program an informal reception was held back of the stage during which acquaintances were renewed with those whom Mr. Friedman had met on his former visit and many new friends were made. Mr. Friedman will remain in Lincoln for a few days' rest for he is very tired, having played seven concerts on seven consecutive days. His next concert will be this week in Grinnell, Ia.

ASK PRESENCE OF COUNTY ATTORNEY

Commissioners Want Him or Assistants to Meet With Them.

Ankeny Inquires If His Services In Sharp Case Required Any Longer.

A motion, was unanimously passed by the Lancaster county board of commissioners Tuesday requesting County Clerk J. B. Morgan to notify County Attorney Charles E. Matson to arrange his plans so that either the county attorney or one of his assistants can meet with the commissioners every Tuesday, the regular meeting date of the board. Unless the request is complied with a drastic resolution will be passed by the commissioners, it was stated.

The commissioners' order of last week changing the method of paying county employes working on a monthly basis for the actual number of days employed excluding Sundays and holidays was rescinded Tuesday to comply with the former method of paying employes on the fractional basis, including Sundays and holidays.

A motion not to pay rent in advance for poor and needy was passed.

Attorney Harry R. Ankeny's letter to the commissioners for attorneys fees and inquiring if his services were desired by the county in re-arguing the case in the supreme court of a man named Sharp against the county and Burlington railroad was received and placed on file. Sharp was awarded judgment against the county and railroad for $6,750 for injuries. At that time Mr. Ankeny was deputy county attorney. He later resigned and the case was appealed to the high bench. Ankeny at the county attorney's request continued representing the county.

The matter of inadequate vault space in the offices of the county clerk and county treasurer was brought before the commissioners. Treasurer A. E. Sutherland in a communication to the board stated that the treasury vault in the basement of the court house is so overcrowded that obsolete records must be placed in the vault in the office.

County Clerk Morgan declared there are chattel mortgage records involving millions of dollars worth of property outside the vault in his office on account of lack of space. There is not enough vault space in the clerk's office to store the returned ballots and election paraphernalia.

A Large Audience Greets The Circle At the Orpheum

Nearly a capacity audience witnessed "The Circle," an English play by W. Somerset Maugham, at the Orpheum Monday night. It was the first attraction booked by Manager L. M. Garman, the new manager, and marked the return of the Orpheum to legitimate drama since the playhouse was closed early in December.

One would not quarrel with the company which appeared in "The Circle." It contained such old time favorites as Norman Hackett, Wilton Lackeye, Amelia Bingham, Henry E. Dixey and Charlotte Walter, all of whom have been in Lincoln in their own productions. They gave an exceedingly delightful and finished performance, although "The Circle" did not call for great acting.

As a grumpy irascible old English Lord, Wilton Lackeye was admirable. Miss Bingham was called upon to do a finer piece of work in her appeal to her son's wife to avoid the mistake which the older woman had made. Mr. Dixie was cast in the pleasing role of Clive and he invested it with a personality quite the most palatable of any of the evening.

The unforeseen ending perhaps provided the shock which the playwright intended, but one will have to look long and hard to find any reason for "The Circle."

It was originally introduced in this country by Mrs. Leslie Carter and John Drew, who presented it in this country. In its abnormal treatment of life, it has been very considerably "toned down" since it left the larger cities.

The play centers on a young English couple, living in a country home, the husband interested in politics and home furnishings, the wife bored by her surroundings. To the home comes a young army officer who impetuously and successfully makes love to the young wife. She invites her husband's mother to visit them. Thirty years before the mother had eloped with another man. Complications ensue when the son's father decides to visit them at the same time. He and his former wife and her companion had not seen each other for thirty years. There's the highly amusing card game and the family circle chat and the big climax in the decision of the young wife to run away with her soldier lover to the colonies where he hopes to find fortune.

The son's mother pleads with the young wife to avoid her folly, dwelling on the social ostracism which follows love. Just as one believes that the young wife is convinced of her own folly, the impetuous lover sweeps her away for an elopement by automobile.

Perhaps The Circle may serve a useful purpose in shocking the sensibilities of sane-minded people.

NEBRASKA MAKES MUCH BEET SUGAR

Miss Esther Anderson Says State Pioneer In That Industry.

Western Counties Produce Plants Of Higher Sugar Content.

Nebraska is one of the pioneer states in the production of beet sugar, according to Esther S. Anderson, of the department of geography, university of Nebraska. The climate of the western counties is especially suited for growing beets high in sugar content.

The principal beet growing areas of Nebraska are in the North Platte, Platte, Lodge Pole and Republican valleys The land is comparatively level, well-drained and easy to till.

The five sugar factories operated in Nebraska are located as follows: Grand Island, capacity 350 tons per day; Scottsbluff, capacity 1900 tons per day; Gering, capacity 1200 tons per day; Bayard, capacity 1200 tons per day; and Mitchell, capacity 1200 tons per day.

It has been found, according to Miss Anderson, that conditions for the beet sugar industry are less favorale in the east-central part of the state than in the western part. The sugar content is lower and it is not possible to organize and conduct the labor activities so rapidly because the people are more accustomed to the growing of corn, wheat and alfalfa.

Beet raising has increased rapidly since the development was started in the North Platte valley Beets grown in the Republican and Lodge Pole valley are shipped to the Grand Island plant and to factories in Colorado. The Grand Island factory also receives beets from the Platte and the lower part of the North Platte valley. Most beets grown in the North Platte valley are milled at Scottsbluff, Gering, Bayard and Mitchell.

The acreage of sugar beets in Nebraska increased rapidly during the war period. The highest acreage was in 1920 when 78,675 acres were grown An approximate annual average of 127,000,000 pounds of sugar was manufactured during the high production years.

The sugar is shipped to large warehouses in Nebraska and other states. It is used principally in Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Minnesota Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

The raising of beets requires intensive cultivation, hence a great many people are needed, especially at the time of cultivation and harvest A considerable amount of foreign and recently Americanized labor is employed

The by products of beets also bring a good return. The tops and pulps are fed to animals. The tops are left on the ground in the field and pastured by cattle and sheep or they are siloed for winter feeding.

The beet districts in Nebraska are located where the land a few years ago was prairie They were brought under cultivation chiefly through irrigation.

DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your bowels clean by flushing keepyour bowels clean by flushing them with a mild harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste, and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much, also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advertisement.

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

Frowns On "Fags."

Crisp and straight-from-the shoulder is this letter from a nice little girl in her 'teens, who lives up-state. She knows her own mind, and is a straight, clear thinker, and it is my guess that she's going to be a forceful influence for the good in some man's life some time.

Dear Minerva: What a group of letters I discovered when I read your Mail in December 29th issue of The Star. What queer people there are in this world and I suppose I'm as queer as the rest, but I don't believe I'm quite as empty in the upper story as "Charming Flappers." They just about capped the climax.

What's the matter with "Earnest?" Probably the soldiers did cry for the "cig," but that is not saying they are harmless. I think they ought to be abolished for all time. I know scores of young men of today who are laying up years of ill health for themselves in the future. Some of our finest boys are forming the seemingly incurable "cig" habit. Why should a boy smoke any more than a girl? If tobacco pollutes a girl's lips does it not do the same thing for a boy? I can see no difference. I certainly disapprove of either sex smoking the poisonous cigarettes. Several boys of my acquaintance have been forbidden to take part in any of the school athletics because their hearts are very weak and it is due to nothing else but the "fag." "Earnest' you may not agree with me. In fact you'll probably give me a tongue-lashing but I won't hear it so I should worry. I'm only a blue-eyed girl more than half way through my 'teens so I probably won't have much influence on you or "Charming Flappers" either, but never-the-less I too have gotten something 'off my chest." Hope this won't offend anyone but if it does, tell Minerva.—UP-AND COMING

Not Too Foolish.

Dear Minerva: Inasmuch as you are so good in helping those in trouble or distress we wish you would let us know through the "Trouble Column" what means "Day by day, in every way,"—everywhere we hear it —"Day by day in every way I am getting fatter and fatter" or "You are getting sweeter and sweeter" or "I am getting broker and broker" Some new "stuff" by our French friend Emile Coue. Now what we want to know, is—What, and Who? Respectfully. —TWO WHO WANT TO KNOW.

A. A lot of stuff and nonsense has been written about Emile Coue's doctrine of "Day by day." But my opinion, as a result of the information I have digested about him from the written word, is that he is a pretty sensible Frenchman after all. He seems to make no pretenses to have discovered anything new. He merely wants us to make use of the old. He believes in the superiority of mind over matter and that we can do wonders with our bodies through the concentration of our mental faculties. As a catch-phrase to keep our minds on the effort and to prevent distracting worries and doubts to creep in, he devised the "Day by day, in every way, we are getting better and better," saying. The idea is that if you say these words often enough and fast enough and believe them hard enough you can almost create miracles.

Must Concentrate.

Dear Minerva: I go to quite a few dances but you know before I go to a dance I am so up in the air that I just can't follow. Now I'm not a good follower at all and that's what I want you to help me with. Just please tell me how I can become a good follower.—ANXIOUS

A. Practice, and concentrate. Keep your mind on the music and the rhythm of the dance rather than on the one-two-three of the steps. I'm giving myself away? La-la, what care I? Of course I dance and love it.

Separation Wrought Change.

Dear Minerva: I have a problem to lay before you that has stumped me. I am 25 years old and I believe that I've had enough experience to make me capable of knowing what I want and I am very much in love with a girl with whom I have kept steady company for over two years. She always appeared to be more mature than her age warranted and so I feel no self condemnation for starting to keep company with her when she was seventeen years old. Now we have been separated for two or three months at a time on several occasions and when I returned I always was deeper in love than before and she was the same as I.

This last September she went away to school, a co-ed school, with the solemn promise to me of her own free will, that she would always love me, and that we would be married some day. I have been just as happy as it is possible for a man to be ever since, until I went home to see her during the Christmas vacation. And then Minerva came the blow that has taken me clear off my feet. She still has the outward appearance of loving me and talked of our marriage. But I could see, oh how plain I could see it, that she didn't really love me like she had before, and when I asked her to tell me honestly whether she loved me or not she said, "I do care for you so much that I can't seem to find a way to tell you, but it seems like there is some insurmountable thing between us. But I don't want to lose you. I want you always."

And yet with that Minerva I could tell by little things that she did not care as she used to. Now what I want to know is this. Did I do the right thing when I asked her to try and get to love me again and then I caught a train and went away from her. I could not stand to be around the same town with her because I was just breaking my heart to be with her, knowing that she did not love me.

Shall I continue to write to her as a friend or shall I just let her go and try to forget her? I am really and truly in love with this girl. It is not an infatuation because she is the only girl I ever cared anything about. I've gone with lots of girls but was never really interested in one before. And now I've had the only person I ever loved taken away from me and things look pretty dark in the future for me.

I don't seem to be able to write what I have in my heart, but I hope that you can understand what I'm up against and tell me would a girl get tired of someone temporarily that way and have I been too exacting. I can't help but think it is my fault and I'll do anything in the world to change it if it is.—RALPH

A. When two persons are separated for any length of time, no matter how deep the attachment is which holds them together, there will be a period of difficulty encountered upon meeting again. Or at least, it is an exception when such is not the case. There must be readjustments between the ideals as carried in memory, and the real found upon meeting. It is in no way uncomplimentary to you, nor indicative of a lost love, that the girl had the feeling of strangeness in you. You made a mistake, though not an irreparable one, in fleeing as you did. You should have remained, acted as naturally as possible and given her that opportunity to regain her natural feeling for you.

Your role now is to write to her in an [illegible] not upbraid her for any seeming indifference on her part. Seek to remain as close to her as possible, through letters write her what you are doing and thinking in a manner which will call forth like letters from her. Keep her confidence respect and interest and when you again have the opportunity to be with her in person take up the pleasurable work of endearing each to the other in the old, familiar way.

Citizens' Board Takes Firm Grip On City's Affairs

HARRISON, Ark., Jan. 23—Conditions along the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad were more firmly in the grip of citizens, openly opposed to striking workmen on that road, following the resignations here last night of H. L. Clute, mayor; George Mincus, city alderman and William Parr, city marshal, and endorsement of the work of the "citizens' committee," here by a mass meeting held last night at Eureka Springs. Armed volunteers continued to patrol the streets and the roads leading into Harrison.

Mayor Clute's resignation will become effective February 5. The immediate successors to Mincus and Parr were selected by a meeting of the city council last night.

Police Follow New Lead In Efforts to Solve Main Mystery

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 23—Investigation of the death of Fritzi Mann, dancer, had veered today to Los Angeles, where local detectives followed a clue whose unraveling they hoped would throw light on the manner in which the girl died on the night of January 14 at a nearby beach. Detectives were reported visiting the film colony in the hope that they would find a man reported to have taken the pretty young woman to dances at a resort near Los Angeles.

Rally Held By Local Christian Endeavor Union

The January rally of the Lincoln Christian Endeavor union was held Monday evening at the East Lincoln Christian church. Miss Gladys Beaumont, president of the union, said in the main address, that she looked forward to a very busy and fruitful year, for a united union a working union and a consecrated union.

Police Judge E. B. Chappell was to have led the devotional services but a misunderstanding in the time prevented him from doing it. Rev. Jack Leonard of the East Lincoln Christian church led the devotional exercises and also gave the address of welcome to which Rev. A. J. Hollingsworth of the Tabernacle Christian church responded. Miss Altene Kelley of Bethany gave a delightful reading entitled "For Her Country." The Tabernacle orchestra and the Westminster Presbyterian society quartet furnished the music.

The Tabernacle society was awarded the baner for the largest percentage of attendance. Ice cream, fruit jello and wafers were served by the entertaining society.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities commonly called uric acid deposits were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery which he called Allenrhu to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenrhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Made in Lincoln Products — DEMAND LINCOLN MADE PRODUCTS — Jobbed in Lincoln Products

Seasonable Merchandise

A large percentage of the commodities sold are so-called seasonable merchandise, and while certain goods come strictly under this specification due to their being made for a specific time and purpose, others are put there because habit and custom made the retailer, and through him, the consumer, see it that way.

Various products especially in the food lines are subjected to this condition without any founded justification. As regularly as clock work a casual observer can see certain lines disappear from shelves and counters the moment cold weather sets in or summer begins as the case may be.

As a consequence the moment the dealer stops to push a line of goods and ceases to advertise it, the demand for it slackens and poor old season is blamed.

Of course there are exceptions but there is no apparent reason other than the lack of the retailer's effort that made coffee sales heavy in the winter and tea sales larger in the summer. The same thing applies to breakfast foods, canned and preserved fruits and vegetables which in fresh form are only in reach of the mass for a comparative small period of the year.

To correct this condition and stabilize a uniform consumption of these necessities throughout the year means a great deal of hard work on the part of the retailer, but everything considered, "Isn't it worth it?"

SWAT THIS BILL

The biennial movie censorship bill made its appearance in the state senate yesterday when Senator Barr, of Gage county, introduced a measure creating a state bureau of standardization of motion pictures.

One provision of the bill should be sufficient to consign it to the legislative graveyard.

That provision is the one which calls for a board of three members, each of whom is to draw $3,000 a year. This state has spoken rather definitely on the matter of boards, bureaus, and commissions. It would like to get rid of a bunch of boards which it now possesses—thanks to the activity of former legislatures, and it does not want any more bureaucratic agencies created. The last ten years have amply demonstrated that each new governmental activity means new expense of government. Just now the people of the state, and especially the taxpayers, are endeavoring to reduce the cost of government.

No doubt the friends of this measure will resort to the old subterfuge that the bureau of standardization of motion pictures will more than support itself by fees which are to be collected by the censors. The bill provides that a charge of $2 a reel shall be made. Who is to pay this charge? It won't come out of the pockets of the motion picture producers. It's a safe bet that the motion picture proprietors will not absorb it. The man who delights in a movie show for himself and his family will undoubtedly be called upon to pay the cost of inspection. It has always been the practice and it will always be the practice to pass the cost of inspection on to the general public. Any fee or license constitutes an indirect tax—just as deadly so far as tax burdens are concerned as the direct tax. The legislature must keep this fact firmly in mind.

The astonishing increase in tax burdens is due in a large part to the efforts of zealots and busy-bodies to formulate a rule of life for every individual. No one is compelled to attend a motion picture. People go to the movies of their own free will, and they have ample opportunity to investigate to determine if it is the kind of a picture which they desire to see. It is time to call a halt in this tendency towards paternalism on the part of the state. In the light of the mandate given by the voters of Nebraska last November, this fight to prevent the creation of new state agencies is hopless unless the Barr bill for motion picture censorship is defeated. This proposal to create three fat state jobs at $3,000 a year is a brazen affrontery of the expressed wishes of the people of Nebraska

PARKING LIMITATIONS.

Time limitation on parking in the business section is in effect after several months of discussion and consideration. It means convenience for the shopper and profits for the merchant and it will save the tempers of countless drivers, countless times in future months.

"Perpetual parkers" are the ones most seriously affected by the new law. Those who have been in the habit of leaving their car standing at the curb in front of busy mercantile doors for a half day at a time or twice daily, will be much disconcerted to find that this privilege is now denied them. Those who use their places for brief periods will call blessing down upon the commission which has at last made it possible to go shopping without also walking unpleasant distances from side streets.

The new law will undoubtedly be inconvenient for physicians and professional men of that kind who need their cars in an emergency and need them quickly. The greatest good for the greatest number is to be served, however, and these must find new pews for their cars outside of the limited area. The shopper who dallies too long at the hair dresser's or who takes more than two hours for her purchases in one store, will likewise be inconvenienced and probably fined. At the end of each two hours the car must be moved and unless moved will be tagged, and the owner arrested.

The district included is the district where the great volume of retail business is done. It is the district where the merchants have asked for a time limit on parking. It covers the territory where for months it has been possible to park only by a lucky chance. Together with the new traffic ordinance it represents the best improvements thoughtful minds could make to Lincoln's traffic rules. Thoughful people will realize the good these new rules include and will obey them carefully.

SENATOR BORAH'S PROTEST.

The evolution of Senator Borah, the old irreconcilable, on international policies, constitutes the most amazing flip-flop performed by a man in public life in the last quarter of a century.

Here is Mr. Borah in the halls of the United States senate criticising the state department for its continued silence and its failure to at least formally protest to France against the occupation of the Ruhr district.

"This is a situation," Senator Borah is quoted as saying, "in which the United States cannot with honor remain silent. The first duty of a nation is to protect its life when assailed and its highest honor and glory in victory is to be just to a fallen foe.

"It was American principles announced by President Wilson upon which the armistice was signed, and it was upon these principles that Germany laid down her arms."

Senator Borah then goes on to treat of conditions obtaining in the drafting of the Versailles covenant and present day conditions in Germany. He continues:

"In other words we see the German people turned over to the most destructive, and ruthless method of militarism, or arbitrary power, and we do not so much as record our protest. Certainly we cannot be silent under such circumstances."

Where was Senator Borah when the German militarists outraged world sentiment by laying waste the fair cities and towns of Belgian and France in the march towards Paris? Why did not Borah raise his voice in protest against practices outlawed by civilized humanity? Why did he align himself with those men in the United States senate, who, more than any other one factor, defeated all chance of a lasting peace and the formation of a league to prevent wars, with America taking her proper place as a member?

America, and Senator Borah, have steadfastly proclaimed they wanted no association with Europe and no part in European affairs. How can America protest when her course during the last two years has been one renouncing America's participation in foreign affairs?

Mr. Borah's utterances would be funny if the situation were not so desperately tragic.

SMALL CATTLE LOSS.

A few open winter in the western sandhill counties of Nebraska has reduced cattle losses to a minium, and conditions are reported by the federal bureau to be unusually promising in that section.

In fact Nebraska reports the smallest loss of any of the seventeen western states, with a loss of 2.6 per cent. Other western states ranged from slightly above this figure to as high as 10 per cent.

The sandhill country in the western part of the state was hardest hit of any during the period of deflation immediately following the war. With the curtailment of credit, cattle men were compelled to dispose of their holdings at a time when the market was on the toboggan. As a result the ranges were cleared of cattle. Not until last fall was it possible to restock the range and while the number of head of cattle fed during the winter will be considerably under the average, it has been an improvement over the preceding two years. Grass was plentiful in most of the west counties and there is plenty of feed to fatten all of the cattle on the range.

No finer country exists for the cattle industry than some sections of the range in western Nebraska

Comment by the Press

IS THERE AN INTELLECTUAL ARISTOCRACY?

Those who look about from the pinnacle of achievement, whether that attainment be one of intellectuality, wealth, genius, or temporal power, are inclined to believe, and to impart the belief, that it is through the processes and methods which they have adopted and applied that the great problems of the world may best be solved. The observer is persuaded to believe that as there is an aristocracy of wealth, an aristocracy of genius, and an aristocracy of power, so also there is an aristocracy of intellect, or of intellectuality, of the intelligentsia, as those of the class are sometimes referred to. He is led to believe that all endeavor, unless directed and supervised by those of one or another of the classes regarded as aristocratic, is futile and foreordained to failure.

At the moment, when a solution is being sought for the problems which perplex the people of the world the reassuring invitation is extended to refer these problems to those comprising what President Hopkins of Dartmouth college designates as an "aristocracy of brains." This aristocracy, he is quoted as saying, will lead the world out of the dilemma that now oppresses it.

Is it true, as asserted, that to the intelligentsia belongs the credit for the overthrow of the serf system in Russia? Was it an "aristocracy of intellect" that brought about the French Revolution? Did the intellectuals, as a class of as an aristocracy, accomplish the abolition of slavery in the United States? It is undoubtedly true, as President Hopkins asserts, that the serfs did not rise up of themselves and throw the yoke of oppression, and likewise that the Negroes of the slave states did not bring about their own emancipation. The masses of France also were aided in their crusade by those who claimed to compose the "aristocracy of intellect."

And yet the term "aristocracy of intellect" is somewhat distasteful to those who are not regarded among the elect as having attained the intellectual status of aristocrats. Americans prefer to appraise themselves by some other standard. They shrink from a classification whose name smacks so strongly of something incongruous to a free democracy. They seem inclined to believe that if there is an aristocracy of intellect there may one day be set up an autocracy of intellect, with the limiting or inclusive lines fixed according to a standard indicated, not by intelligence but by intellectuality.

This evident determination to make democracy, as it is understood in its broadest sense, the basis, rather than some undetermined and fluctuating standard of intellectuality, may reasonably be defended because it is, in fact, impossible to free such a standard from the dangers which are inherent in any aristocracy. The tendency of the class always is to contract, rather than to extend, its inclusive or limiting lines. Education, the ability to think aright, real intelligence, may sooner or later be displaced as the qualifying standards, and willingness to think according to a formula be substituted.

Education is imperative. Of this there can be no doubt. But this means that education must be of the masses, not of the classes. It has not been made apparent that the colleges have acquired proficiency in turning out supermen or superwomen. Neither does it appear that those who might, if they chose lay claim to such distinction of class as it suggested by the president of Dartmouth, have been foremost in solving humanity's great problems. It must be that in the future, as in the past, the really great accomplishments must be by those who have learned to see and think clearly. Among such there can be set up no aristocracy either of intellectuality or of wealth.—Christian Science Monitor.

More Truth Than Poetry

A sweet romantic maiden who had loveliness to spare
Looked enchanting to a college graduate.
He was not at all athletic, but the fellow had a flair
For things that his instructors thought were great:
He was heavy on psychology,
And also on philology,
In fact, he wrote a tragedy in Greek,
But the maiden, being silly,
Gave him glances that were chilly;
She passed him the raspberry, so to speak.

Her favor was bestowed upon a muscular young cub
Who pulled a drop-kick that had won a game;
He never graduated, for, in truth, he was a dub.
But he got the lovely maiden, all the same.
She loved to romp and dance with him
And so she took a chance with him,
And turned her back upon the wiser guy;
She preferred the man with muscle
The big bearcat who could hustle
For the fodder that a husband must supply.

The boy who had the learning didn't sit round and pine;
He wrote a book that brought him wide renown;
He was asked to speak at clubs, and invited out to dine.
But the most exalted people in the town,
But she who had decisively,
Or, truth to tell, derisively
Refused to be his loving little mate
Spend no sad hours regretting
The attention he was getting,
For she never heard about it. Such a fate!

AN ENVIABLE RECORD.

"How is your son getting along in college?"

"Fine. He hasn't been laid up with any broken bones; he has been arrested only once for speeding, and, so far, he hasn't contracted a single secret marriage."

THE MAIN QUESTION.

"I understand, sir, that you desire to employ a butler."

"Yes."

"I have had a long experience in such service, sir, and I believe I am justified in saying that I know butling from A to Z."

"Oh, I don't care anything about your ability to buttle but how are you at bootlegging?"

KNOWLEDGE.

"All I know is what I read in the papers," says Will Rogers. A lot of people don't even know that.

THE RULING PURPOSE.

Dr. Coue is coming to this country to lecture, and his manager is probably hoping that every day in every way he will be getting richer and richer.

SO ACCOMMODATING!

"Take a chair," said the affable young lawyer, as the visitor entered.

"I'm going to take chairs, desks and everything," replied the visitor, who was from the instalment office furnishers.

PEACHES AND PERSIMMONS

A good conversationalist is one who listens while you talk about yourself.

The difference between friendship and courtship is that friendship doesn't lead to hardship.

If war itself doesn't make a people more vigorous, the job of paying for it will.

That psychologist who says a kiss is just a contact of membranes has missed a lot of fun.

The weather may keep you from church now, but eventually you'll go in a closed car.

When you reach the point where progress offends you, you might as well resign yourself to getting old.

Old-fashioned youngsters spent the evening holding hands; the moderns spend it complaining about the hands they hold.

That man who held up a restaurant cashier merely proves that diners as well as worms will turn.

Another infernal triangle consists in an insurance policy, a business reverse and a fire.

No country is ready for self-government while the minority yearn to accent the "dent" in president.

A brave woman is one who can leave a club meeting early and leave the others behind to talk about her clothes.

A lot of pious people who observe the Sabbath forget the other part o. the command that refers to working six days.

A buck town is a place where everybody refuses to have anything to do with a movement because old man Jones is chairman again.

It's all a gamble, e'en though the cave man used a club and the modern swain a diamond.

After a woman reaches thirty, her chief pleasure consists in remembering how many of her acquaintances are older.

When the wife asks about political matters, you only hope is to be vague enough to convince her that she hasn't wit enough to understand.

The world never will be wholly civilized. Some outlying portions have no natural resources worth seizing

Correct this sentence: "Just be still dear,' said the husband to his wife at 3 a. m. 'and I'll get the little chap his drink."

TIMBER AND PAPER.

Authorities on forestation in the United States claim to have established the fact that six tons of print paper are equivalent to an average acre or standing timber. It follows, therefore, that the saving and remanufacture of a ton of waste paper means the conservation of one-sixth of an acre of forest trees from which paper pulp is made. In Current Markets, a "house organ" of the Salvation army, the statement was made—and truthfully so—that the situation with regard to the nationwide demand for print paper "is simply alarming; and it should be shouted from the housetops that waste paper must not be destroyed, but conserved and saved so that it may be returned to the mills for remanufacture." . . . Last year the Salvation army through the collection of waste paper, saved 7,000 acres of standing timber from destruction. The value of the work it was thus enabled to do, through application of theo roceeds from its sales of waste paper is impossible of computation in terms of dollars and cents—Atlanta Constitution.

STATE'S RIGHTS SUBORDINATE.

There is evident a strong sentiment against further invasion by the federal government of what are known as state's rights. Considerable opposition has arisen to the anti-lynching bill and to the president's proposal for limiting the issuance of tax free securities on the ground that both are in violation to the traditional policy of leaving certain problems for the state to settle.

But there is one important field from which the federal government ought not to be excluded by any consideration for the rights of the state. That is the regulation of child labor. The right of a child to a happy and healthful life and an education to fit him for the struggles that lie ahead of him is so fundamental that it ought to override the traditional privilege of the states to deny him that right. The protection of young is one of the most primitive of the instincts. It exists in the lower forms of animal life. Even the dumb brute brings up its offspring in a way that will give it the greatest chance for a normal life. When any state refuses to extend the same protection to children that animals give to their young a principle far more important than state's rights is being violated.

And it is only through federal action that proper protection of the young can be assured. If a single manufacturing state subordinates humanity to greed in the treatment of its children, it puts a strong pressure upon its competing states to do likewise. Independent action by the states gives an advantage to the least humane of the states. Federal action puts all the states upon an equality.

This is one reason why the proposed constitutional amendment to permit congress to pass a child labor bill ought to be adopted regardless of our views upon state's rights. —Norfolk News.

TYPHOID PREVENTION.

Twenty years ago 472 persons died from typhoid fever in Cleveland, according to a recent report of the city health commissioner. Last year there were only nineteen typhoid deaths. The mortality rate for typhoid was 2.2 per 100,000 for that city while it was nine per 100,000 for the whole country.

That is notable progress. The health officer points out that the steady decline in the typhoid death rate has directly followed improvement in water supply and the safeguarding of the city's milk.

The average citizen knows little about the details and administration of public health and sanitation work. Such figures as those quoted, however, show in brief space how important all such work is. Typhoid prevention is only one line of activity. There are many others, and the raising of public health standards is the aim of all of them —Norfolk News.

BLUE SKY LAW.

Representative Orr, of Burt county, will introduce a bill into the Nebraska legislature providing for the repeal of the so-called blue sky law.

Mr. Orr declares the law has caused a great many Nebraskans to lose money. The agents of rather risky concerns use their permit from the blue sky board as an indorsement of their project and the investors thinking the state would not issue permission to a fake concern to do business, invest and lose out.

Perhaps the companies made a legal showing to the board and the right to do business in the state is regularly secured but the outcome often is disappointing and then the state is blamed for the losses sustained by the investing public.

If the law is repealed some sort of statute should take its place to protect the public against the fake concerns that are sure to try to operate if there are no restrictions. A properly constructed blue sky law might be all right. The trouble has been in the inability of the blue sky law board to ascertain the true nature of the companies desiring to do business in the state.

Legitimate business enterprises should not be made to bear the odium caused by the fakers.—York News-Times.

Here and There

OIL AS AN ECONOMIC FORCE.

Speaking of Mosul and the Turk, a London paper recently remarked that, when oil is mentioned, a recluse nation bursts from its retirement on the instant. This, of course, is a thrust at the United States, which slumbered when the Turk was murdering Armenians, but suddenly woke up when oil was mentioned.

Be this as it may, oil has come to exercise a new power in modern diplomacy and for a reason. Sixty years ago gasoline was a waste product, while the American kerosene can found its way into Persia, India and China. In this country six billion dollars are now invested in this industry, which claims more than two hundred and sixty thousand producing wells.

Last year the consumption of gasoline amounted to an average expenditure of ten dollars by every man, woman and child in this country. The refineries turned out five billions galons of gasoline all but half a billion of which was used in the United States By 1940 it is estimated that thirty million motor vehicles will be using gasoline unless another motive power is discovered.

The supply, some authorities claim is inexhaustible, although this country is now getting nearly a quarter of it from Mexico and the day is already here when economy should be practised. Great saving can still be made, it is claimed, through better drilling methods

The magic of oil in the modern world give some point to the argument of those who claim that economic factors are the determinants of civilization. Just because modern industry has an economic basis; the great natural resources like oil, coal and timber should be used with care and a thought to the future—Minneapolis Journal.

NEW IDEALS IN A TOWER.

What the wizardy of modern construction can do to bring the Liberty Memorial within the funds of the memorial association was to be explained to the board of governors this afternoon by H. Van Buren Magonigle, its author.

The New York architect reached Kansas City today with more than drawings than could be rolled into a golf bag. The drawings represent the development in detail of the design as finally approved by the board of governors April 5.

The drawings will reval a shaft or tower built of reinforced concrete, but faced in stone. The peculiar shape of the design, creating a series of buttresses, according to engineers, will lend great strength to the body of the shaft.

The first conception of the shaft was that of a monument built of "stone on stone." Such is the Washington monument, though the weight of that towering shaft always has been a matter of concern to those who are studying the effect of the pressure upon the rock base and also what Mr. Magonigle calls the tendency of the rock mass to "pinch" the lower stones.

In the plans which Mr Magonigle brings the facing stone will not be a continuous weight but will be tied into a concrete frame at intervals something after the manner in which the modern skyscraper is faced with brick, or stone, or terra cotta.

But even a stone faced concrete shell towering 414 feet above the union station plaza, will bear down with enormous pressure upon the rock ledges upon which the base rests.

Here again enters modern engineering. Instead of carrying the entire foundation to the lowest firm ledge of rock, it has been figured that it is practical to construct a round concrete base on a substantial ledge of rock, first dropping to the lower ledge a series of large piers to serve as auxiliary support in case of need.

Here, however, comes more engineering ingenuity. Nicks can be cut in the base of the shaft. Then if a century develops the slighest settling, the tilt of an inch or so in the tower, comercial jacks can be brought into play and the alignment corrected.—Kansas City Star.

IT SHOWED SYMPATHY.

During the late bankers convention in New York a western member of the association called at a downtown bank and asked the president for a loan of $500, being a little "short."

"What collateral can you give?"

"Collateral? Why I thought the town was wide open to us. Ive no collateral."

"Well," said the banker, "I'll gamble with you. I've a glass eye. If you can tell me which it is I'll lend you $500 on your note."

"The right one," said the visitor.

"How did you know?"

"Why," he said, "when I asked you for the money it seemed the more sympathetic."—New York Herald

THE GREATER LOVE

A New Romance by Virginia Terhune Van de Water

Author of Nation-Wide Reputation and Writer of Popular Novels and Short Stories.

CHAPTER LXXVIII.

Beatrice Lang sent her telegram to the Van Cleves early on the morning following her decision to go to Murray Bay. By noon she had an answer. Her friends hoped she would come to them immediately.

The large trunkful of clothes that had been shipped direct to Saxville from the Maine coast was not even opened, but was now expressed on to Canada. The little steamer trunk that had accompanied the widow to Southport was repacked and ready to start with her on her journey northward tomorrow.

On the afternoon before she left Saxville she had a call from Victoria Walsh. Beatrice had telephoned to her favorite requesting her to come to see her.

"I am going off again tomorrow, my dear," she said. "And I want a glimpse of you before I go."

She greeted Victoria effusively when that young person entered her room at 2 o'clock.

"I am so glad to see you!" Mrs. Lang exclaimed, kissing her caller, then holding her at arm's length and looking at her. "I sent for you early so that we could have a little visit together before there was any chance of Kenneth's coming in and interrupting us. He is very busy just now. I hope, dear, that you have had the compassion to miss him just a little. For he has missed you. Ah! I see you blushing. You did miss him—didn't you, my child?"

"Of course, I did!" Victoria declared, laughing nervously. "And I was glad to see him last night. I told him that he was handsomer than ever."

"And he said the same to me about you!" Mrs. Lang rejoined, her face beaming with delight. "Ah, you young people! You do not know how I renew my youth in your beautiful enthusiasms! Tell me about yourself, Victoria, dear."

It was the same thing that Kenneth had demanded last night. But the girl did not answer the mother as she had answered the son.

"I have not been doing anything that would interest you, especially," she said. "The summer has, so far, been rather quiet. I have stayed at home with Dad—and, except for an occasional week-end, have not been away."

"You have not wanted to go?" Mrs. Lang asked. "Or has there been some attraction here that has made it seem better worth while to stay in Saxville?"

The girl's flush of embarrassment might mean one of two things. The widow was determined to learn which it meant.

"Saxville has not many attractions in hot weather," Victoria parried, "except the country club where one plays tennis and golf. And it has been so hot this summer that I have avoided strenuous exercise."

"You have really missed Kenneth?" the widow insisted.

The girl nodded.

"I am glad you have," Kenneth's mother affirmed.

Victoria Walsh looked straight at her. She was playing a game. And if she played at all, it would be with her wits alert. This was no time for silly scruples.

"You will not tell him I said that, will you, Mrs. Lang?" she begged. "It sounds bold—I suppose—and too modern, perhaps. But, you know, I am modern—and forgive me if I say that I hate conventionality."

"Dear child!" Mrs. Lang cooed. "Of course I will not tell Kenneth—although I fancy that he knows for himself something of the truth. And, dear, forgive me if I say that it makes me happy to have you speak to me as frankly as you have done. Now e will talk of something else."

They did talk of something else. Why should they not? The woman-of-the-world flattered herself that she had made assurance doubly sure. Now she could have a perfect time at Murray Bay and in New York.

Only once more did she refer to the subject she had introduced. It was when Victoria rose to take her leave.

"Good-bye, dear child!" Beatrice said. Then, with a motherly kiss, she added: "Take care of my boy while I am away—for my sake, as well as for—others!"

"I will do my best!" Victoria assured her with a becoming blush.

GARY "ROUNDUP" IN FULL SWING

Arrest of Alleged Dry Law Smashers Continues—Police After Seventy-five.

(Associated Press.)

GARY, Ind., Jan. 23.—Work of rounding up members of an alleged Lake county liquor ring which resulted in the arrest of several local and county officials including Mayor Roswell Johnson of this city, was being continued today by federal officials. Capiases for the arrest of seventy-five persons alleged to be members of the ring, which indictments returned by the federal court at Indianapolis charge, operated under protection of Lake county officials, have been issued.

Members of the alleged ring, the indictments charge, entered into a conspiracy to violate the prohibition law by the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquor. The conspiracy extended, according to the indictment, to having members of the ring placed in county and local offices, on the police force and other criminal law enforcing agencies.

The ring was so powerful, it is charged, that no just penalty could be meted out to prohibition law violators.

A system was used whereby special judges were appointed in the city court at Gary and attorneys for prohibition law violators would act as judges in each others cases. Jail sentences would be imposed instead of prison sentences and the time shortened or suspended at will, the indictment set forth. The conspiracy extended also, the indictments charge, to attempts to corrupt local, county, state and federal officials in charge of law enforcements.

NEBRASKA LEADS WITH DIRT ROADS

Recognized as Having Best Highways Of This Class In Country.

Nebraska dirt roads are recognized by all as the very best earth roads of any state in the union, according to Charles H. Roper who has returned from Chicago, where he and several other Lincoln people attended the National Good Roads congress, which was in session all of last week. The Lincoln people left a week ago Sunday in a private car over the Burlington, the party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Roper, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. George, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Edgren, C. O. Johnson, W. M. Shotwell, H. C. Gardner.

There were fifteen thousand delegates from all over the world in attendance at the congress and nine states were represented on the program. The main point stressed was the necessity for better co-operation between the states and the federal government in the promotion of the good roads program for trunk highways.

It was pointed out that there are at this time twelve million cars in the United States, the amount of money invested in these being greater than that invested in roads. The average value of the cars is $1,200. It is the biggest investment and the biggest business in the country today, it was asserted and the development and maintenance of better roads is necessary to conserve this investment; good roads mean longer life and greater efficiency for the cars.

While Nebraska is acknowledged to have the best dirt roads, Illinois and Wisconsin lead in hard surfaced highways.

Fear of Safety of Refugees In Storm

MANILA, Jan. 23.—Fear is expressed here that seven Russian refugee ships with more than 500 persons aboard, have been lost in the China sea enroute from Shanghai to the Philippines as part of Admiral Stark's fleet of Vladivostok exiles, five ships of which are anchored near here. The missing vessels have not been heard of for more than two weeks.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGLEMANN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

You should give it a fair trial now.

Spoonful for a Penny Brings Quick Relief

Proves splendid laxative properties of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

A SCIENTIFIC test has now proven what Dr. Caldwell of Monticello asserted many years ago, that constipation will slow you up fully 25 per cent. The test was made by Dr. Donaldson of Loma Linda upon four men in the prime of life who deliberately went without a bowel movement for four days. Within 48 hours the men had coated tongue and foul breath, cankers in the mouth, no appetite, restless sleep, indigestion, headache, depression, nervousness, cramps. The blood pressure was up 28 per cent. It is just this that Dr. Caldwell has preached to his patients in private and to the public through the printed word ever since he began the practice of his specialty, diseases of the stomach and bowels, back in 1875.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous-size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-months old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Brinson, Ga., declares it the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

SENATE OPPOSES CUT IN SALARIES

Wiltse Measure Reducing Pay of State Officers Is to Be Changed.

Barr Proposes State Censorship of Public Amusements and Movies.

Senate File 12, which reduces salaries of constitutional state officers except governor to $4,000, and cuts the supreme court and district judges down to $5,000 and $4,000, came to life suddenly Monday afternoon when the senate by a vote of 18 to 13 moved to recommit it to general file, with the announced intention of changing its provisions ad prospect of killing it altogether.

Senator Hastings called for a reconsideration of the bill, which had gone through first and second reading and committee of the whole and was apparently booked for passage. He based his request on the belief that the legislature has no power to change salaries fixed for six years, and a distinction to change the present stipends of the judicial branch Senator Wiltse, author of the measure, strenuously objected, saying, however, that he would not object to a higher salary for district judges.

The bill is also in line with the economy program to which the legislature is pledged, he said, and with Senator Reed's bill, already passed, calling for a reduction in the $5,000 code secretaries' salaries of $1,000 to $2,500. The bi-partisan vote to recommit was as follows:

For—Allen, Anderson, Bliss, Chambers, Cooper, Good, Gumb, Hastings, Kroh, Saunders, Sturdevant, Thielen, Tomek, Wilkins—18.

Against—Banning, Barr, Behrens, Fries, Johnson, Meacham, Purcell, Reed, Reifenrath, Warner, Wiltse.—13.

Absent—Illian and Richard

Censorship Proposed.

State censorship of public amusements and of moving pictures, with appointive boards drawing nice salaries and with road powers, is proposed in two bills introduced by Barr of Gage Another prohibitive measure by Barr would close the state fair to the public on Sundays.

The senate passed S. F. 6, providing that assistant county officers shall serve when necessary in other county offices, and S. F. 11, reducing the inspection fee on potatoes from $4 to $3 per car.

Warner of Lancaster introduced a resolution aimed at tax exempt securities, which under the rules, went over one day S. MORE VIGOROUS SUPERVISION OF BANKS IS URGED Bankers Advocate Advisory Board to Meet With Head Of Department.

Want Administration of Failed Institutions Made More Economical.

What the state bankers of Nebraska are asking at the present time is not the weakening of the guaranty law in any particular, nor even to be relieved of any of the burdens it imposes on them, but simply that the machinery of banking supervision and administration of failed institutions be made more efficient and economical, an V Stephens of Fremont told the house and senate committees on banking at a hearing held in the senate chamber Monday evening.

"Forty out of the fifty-three banks that have failed in Nebraska could have been saved by more vigorous administration," Mrs Stephens declared, "The big bank at Blair was one which need never have failed. All it needed was the ready money to continue in business.'

Dan J. Riley of Dawson, president of the state bankers' association, also adressed the committees. He and Mr Stephens outlined the provisions of a bill which has been drawn by the legislative committee of the association to remedy the existing situation. Its principal features are:

1. An advisory commission of nine bankers—one selected by each group division of the state association—to meet monthly with the head of the state banking department, ment, check over examiners' reports, and assist in handling irregularities that may be found.

2. This bankers' commission to act as receiver for all failed banks putting in its own agents to wind up their affairs. This, it is claimed, would save large expenses for receivers' and attorneys' fees which usually eat up a big part of the assets.

3. Weak banks to be assisted by drafts on the guaranty fund to prevent their suspension, and put back on their feet under the commission's supervision.

4. Receivers' certificates against failed banks to be made a legal investment for state, county, municipal and school district funds.

5. Acceptance of bonuses by bankers for making loans declared a criminal offense, with adequate penalties provided

Have Been Hard Hit.

Mr. Stephens told the committee that state banks have been hard hit by the large special assessments made upon them to pay losses during the last three and a half years. His own bank at Fremont he said contributed an amount in 1922 alone equal to 23 per cent of its capital stock.

In Oklahoma, said Mr Stephens the guaranty fund is overdrawn $10,000,000 and there is no hope that it will ever pay out It is important he declared, that the burdens on banks here be lightened, in order to prevent the stronger ones withdrawing from the state system and reorganizing as nationals, which would be disastrous to the guaranty fund

J. P. Palmer of Omaha stated to the committee that the expense for receiverships of failed banks has been running half a million dollars a year, all of which is borne by the solvent banks through the guaranty fund. He and Mr Stephens thought the greater part of this expense could be eliminated by allowing the advisory commission of bankers to take charge of all closed banks.

Says Survey Shows Religious Education Is Not Effective

Rev. Frank Lindhorst, associate pastor of the First Methodist church of University Place, addressed the students of Nebraska Wesleyan, Monday, on the function of education. He said in brief:

"Education should mean equipment that will help the holder to act. Book learning, if worth anything, should teach us how to act. Religious education should teach the child to act correctly from something inside. To judge by what we see religious education has been ineffective. In the United States there are 69 3-10 per cent of those under twenty-five years of age who are in no religious school of any kind. Of the Protestants alone there are 27,000,000 who are not attending a religious school. The amusement places are drawing the children six days a week.

"The Sunday school offers about twenty minutes once a week. This is totally inadequate when we consider the necessity of imparting occasions for right motives and right conduct. We must have people prepared to introduce the best methods of imparting religious instruction into the Sunday schools. Here is a challenge to college men and women to invest their lives where they will count for the most Particularly do we need in the small communities where most of us will live, people who are feeling that religious education must be gotten across."

PROPOSE A LOWER SCHOOL TAX LEVY

Bill Reduces It From 20 to 12 Mills On Actual Valuation.

Reduction of the maximum school tax levy from 20 to 12 mills based on actual valuation, or from 100 to 60 mills on the old basis, is the purpose of a bill to be introduced in the legislature by Representatives Barr four and O'Gara, supplementing the series already out in by them to require a two-thirds vote for school and municipal bond issues.

This measure is expected to stir up quite a turmoil, as the school superintendents' organization will probably fight it and some boards of education will also be against it. Messrs. Barbour and O'Gara frankly say that they are looking at the matter from the standpoint of the taxpayer and not of the school executive. They insist that extravagance and unnecessary frills be cut out.

Along with the 12-mill limit on school taxes, the two members will incorporate in their bill an ironclad restriction against school boards spending more money than the revenue at their disposal each year, or incurring indebtedness in excess of it.

To render this provision more effective, there will be a clause making school board officers and members personally liable for any indebtedness which may be incurred beyond the lawful limit of expenditure.

Dakota League Head Proposes Tieup With Nebraska State Loop

DAKOTANS SEEK TO JOIN STATE LOOP

Cantillon Leaguers Anxious to Make Baseball Tieup With Nebraska.

Mike E. Cantillon, executive head of the North-South Dakota baseball league during the summer season and pleasure-seeker at Pasadena, Cal., during the pennant race in the Stove league, has cut loose with a new idea. In a wire communication from Pasadena, received in Lincoln yesterday by Charles N. Moon, secretary of Lincoln's Nebraska State league organization, Prexy Mike proposes that the Nebraska and Dakota league pool issues in the framing of a new baseball circuit.

President Cantillon's South Dakota leaguers are anxious to break away from the North Dakota members, preferring to tie up with Nebraska in the national pastime. Coalition to include the four South Dakota towns of the Cantillon loop—Sioux Falls, Mitchell, Watertown and Aberdeen—with Sioux City and the three most desirable cities in the Nebraska league strikes President Cantillon as being a fine little baseball scheme. He said that much in his message.

Nix On Dakota Bait.

Secretary Moon in discussing the Cantillon suggestion today indicated that Nebraska leaguers are not likely to gulp the Dakota bait.

"In the first place, the Cantillon plan would involve breaking up the Nebraska league," Secretary Moon said. "I am sure the Lincoln club is not interested in any scheme such as that. The Lincoln club's influence will be directed toward strengthening the State league rather than to tear it down.

"So far as Aberdeen and Watertown are concerned, both towns are too far distant from Nebraska to be available for circuit purposes in a class D league. Sioux Falls and Mitchell, however, are more desirably located.

Anxious to Expand.

"In case the Nebraska league goes through with its plan to take over the Sioux City territory, either Sioux Falls and Mitchell possibly might fit in with our circuit. We are anxious to expand to eight clubs this year, but not if it means breaking faith with the Nebraska league.

"I have wired Cantillon that President Miles of the Nebraska league is in Texas this week and no steps can be taken until his return. In event any changes are made in our circuit, the Lincoln club will stand for the re-election of President Miles as executive head of the league."

SCRIBES GET BACK AT COWBOY JESS

Fight Writers of New York Take Revenge On Once Haughty Willard.

Sudden collapse in New York of Jess Willard's campaign to "smoke up" a fight with Dempsey provides a perfect illustration of the old adage pertaining to the persistence of the "chickens coming home to roost." Be it known that Jess is "in bad," very bad, it seems, with the fight writers of Gotham. One of the latter, Westbrook Pegler, gives a good reason for the hostility of the scribes in the following:

"The mills of the gods grind slowly but they make exceedingly small potatoes of the biggest of all.

Once Haughtiest of Haughty.

"When Jess Willard was champion there wasn't a doll on Broadway more haughty than the ponderous pugilist from County Pottowatamie. You couldn't approach him unless you showed him a chance to sell you something—the story of his life, a ticket to his circus, or other lucrative by-product of his notoriety.

"When Willard was training at the old Knickerbocker for his little stroll with Frank Moran, the sports writers on the story had to pay two-bits admission to his workouts. They couldn't approach his dressing room. Tom Jones, his manager, a pretty bloke who twigged the little ways of the fight game, was forever fronting for the big Jessica, explaining his 'unfortunate modesty,' which made him act that way.

"One day when Willard was tramping down the gravel on the lanes of Central park in a bit of road work, he clouted a newspaper photographer, who had snapped him, and smashed the fellow's camera.

"This is the pot-fronted old giant who has come to New York with his sombrero in his hand looking for a chance to pick up $100,000 as a loser's end with Dempsey. They are various reasons why Willard isn't going to kid the public out of that $100,000."

Golf Player Worth More to Employer

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—A golfer is worth at least $500 more a year to his employer than an employe who does not have the physical and moral benefits of that game, according to W. A. Alexander of Chicago at the annual meeting of the Western Golf association.

He declared that it would be a good investment for every businessman to see to it at his own expense that that his employes had opportunity to play golf at least once a week.

The speaker offered a cup for the winner of the western junior championship.

HEAVY SCRAPPERS NOW IN SPOTLIGHT

Brennan-Firpo and Gibbons-Johnson Fights on Card For New York.

DEMPSEY DUE IN GOTHAM.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—New York's population, recently augmented by an influx of heavyweight boxers, temporarily will go up one more today with the expected arrival of Jack Dempsey, the champion of them all. His manager, Jack Kearns, is expected tomorrow or Thursday.

Nothing in a business way is expected of the champion until Kearns' advent. When the latter arrives, agreements probably will be made for at least two bouts for the champion this summer, one with Jess Willard, from whom he won the title, and a second, provided he survives the first, with one of the aspirants who never has held the crown.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Arrangements for a heavyweight boxing match at Madison Square Garden March 12 between Bill Brennan and Louis Firpo, South American champion, were completed late yesterday when Leo Flynn, the Chicagoan's manager, signed a contract for the bout.

Promoter Tex Rickard previously had received cabled acceptance of his terms for the contest for Firpo. The latter is expected to leave Buenos Aires about February 1. Firpo has been promised a championship bout with Jack Dempsey within six months if he defeats Brennan.

The winner of the bout, according to Rickard's plan, will be matched with the winner of the coming Gibbons-Johnson bout and the ultimate winner will be given a bout with Jack Dempsey.

Wills Out of the Running.

On the eve of Jack Dempsey's arrival in the east to discuss what promises to be an active campaign next summer it has became virtually established that Harry Wills, negro challenger, will not meet the titleholder in 1923, if at all.

From a position of outstanding contender for Dempsey's crown six months ago, when he signed an agreement of indefinite terms for a contest with the champion, Wills has sunk to virtually obscurity, while Floyd Johnson, Jess Willard and Luis Firpo have stepped into the heavyweight limelight.

Wills' challenge and forfeit, posted at the New York state athletic commission for a fight with Dempsey, still holds good, but William Muldoon, chairman of the commission, declares there seems little likelihood of the contest being arranged.

No Promoter in Sight.

"The Dempsey-Wills contest is hanging fire," Mr. Muldoon said, "because no promoter wants to undertake it. As far as the principals are concerned, I believe both are ready to go through with a match any time it can be arranged."

Tex Rickard, who declared last summer that he would not attempt to stage a Dempsey-Wills contest before June, 1923, now is understood practically to have cancelled any plans he had made for its promotion. Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker for the Polo Grounds, put in a bid for the bout last fall, but he is not likely to renew it for the coming out-door season.

Canada Says Nay.

Canada, which was considered as a posible site last year, has registered official disapproval to a mixed match. Boxing solons in New York and New Jersey, where Boyle's "Thirty Acres" would offer a desirable site—would not, it is believed, put any obstacles in the way of the bout, but it is apparent, nevertheless, that it has been placed in the discard.

Present indications are that Dempsey will engage in at least two bouts during the outdoor season, one with Willard, probably on June 30 at Boyle's "Thirty Acres," and another with either Johnson or Firpo, probably in September. His opponent for a second bout will depend upon the outcome of an elimination series, two of which, between Bill Brennan and Firpo, and Tom Gibbons and Johnson, are carded for March.

Gibbons Not Out of Race.

Gibbons may loom as a contender, despite the fact that his formal challenge last week was rejected by the New York state athletic commission on the ground that the St. Paul boxer was too light for the champion.

His chance of meeting Dempsey will depend largely upon the outcome of his bout with Johnson, who recently impressed ring followers by the decisive beating he administered to Brennan at Madison Square Garden.

Dempsey is expected to reach New York either today or Wednesday depending upon whether he takes part in a benefit show at Toledo today. His manager, Jack Kearns, will follow shortly afterward for a conference with Rickard, which is expected to result in a definite program of action.

Boxer Bets Coin On His Ability To Climb Steps

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Johnny Wilson, world's middleweight boxing champion, is out to win a wager of $360 on his ability to climb stairs.

There is a series of steps at 230th street and Edge Hill terrace—20 flights in all—and he had made a bet with a sports writer that he can make two round trips in twenty minutes. The last person who tried to negotiate the steps in a given time made one trip in 23 minutes and gave up.

FIGHTER CRACKS RIBS IN TRAINING

Walt Moody Forced to Call Off Lincoln Appearance; Smith Substituted.

CHALLENGE TO KILBANE.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 23.—Eddie Long, manager of Sammy Mandell, today mailed a certified check for $5,000 as challenge money for a bout with Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight champion.

Cracking of three ribs, an injury sustained at Sioux City while in training, has compelled Walt Moody, Rock Island lightweight, to cancel his appearance against Battling Strayer in the eight-round semi-windup on next Friday night's glove program at the City auditorium. Announcement was made today that Matt Smith of Ida Grove, Ia., one of the tough lightweights of the Hawkeye state, has been substituted for Moody in the rookus with Strayer.

Smith and Strayer have an old argument to settle. They hooked up last year in a draw at Ida Grove and Strayer, now in stiff training for renewal of the controversy, indicated that he wouldn't be satisfied next Friday unless he gets the decision or knocks the Iowa mauler for a row of bungaloes.

Everett Looks Good on Dope.

Connie Curry, Sioux City, and Stanley Everett, Peoria, Ill., bantamweight opponents in the Friday night windup, are scheduled to arrive in Lincoln Wednesday in time for an afternoon workout. Curry's record, published in The Sunday Star, while it shows the Sioux City boy has been coming along at a rapid clip, really has nothing on Everett's achievements in the resined arena. Everett has exchanged punches with most of the top-notch performers in the bantam division, his record including draws and no-decisions with such celebrites as Frankie Mason, once American champion of the flyweights, Earl Puryear, Frankie Schmalzer, Bud Taylor, Eddie Connors and Sammy Mandell.

SIDNEY QUINTET LOSES ONE GAME

Green's Tossers Win Four Contests On 1923 Cage Slate.

(Special to The Star.)

SIDNEY, Neb., Jan. 23.—Sidney high school has a strong basketball team this year. The locals have won four of the five games played, meeting their first defeat last week in a game with Alliance.

North Platte was defeated in the first of the season, 29 to 16. Shaner scored all of North Platte's points while Null featured the Sidney play with twelve points.

In the second game, Sidney won from Scottsbluff, 29 to 17. Lally was high point man for Sidney scoring twelve points. Bridgeport was defeated in the third game, 39 to 13. Null scored eight baskets and Lally seven. Bayard was defeated in the fourth game, 16 to 13. Bayard could only score one basket and one free throw in the final half and Sidney forged ahead.

Members of the squad are Roy Chambers, Floyd Dresser, Spencer Fib, Frank Lally, Ralph Null, Isreal Snyder, Clifford Waite, Ralph Willis, Floyd Matteson and Arlo Parry.

Ralph Null captains the team. He is a small player but conceded to be one of the speediest in this section. Last year was his first season on the team. The other forward is Ralph Willis, playing this second year. He is not flashy but clever and exceedingly fast. Frank Lally, center, is playing his first year as a regular.

Dresser, guard, is the veteran of the squad. Snyder, the other guard, is a substitute of last year and is playing an excellent game this season.

Alliance Tossers Win From Sidney

(Special to The Star.)

SIDNEY, Neb., Jan. 23.—Alliance high school defeated Sidney here last Saturday in an important Western Nebraska high school conference game, 15 to 10.

TIGERS SPURT TO BASKET VICTORY

Missouri Rally In Last Half Defeats Nebraska, 33 to 18.

University of Missouri's basketball team spurted in the last ten minutes of play and the Tigers defeated the Cornhuskers in a hard fought basketball game last night at the armory, 33 to 18.

With ten minutes to play, Missouri was leading by a three-point margin, 18 to 15. At this stage of the game the Huskers had outshot the Bengals on tries from the floor, the Missouri advantage being in free throws. But the Nebraska defense cracked and Captain "Bun" Browning and Bunker went on a scoring spree which pushed the Missourians into a lengthy lead.

Crowd Razzes Referee.

At half-time, Missouri was leading Nebraska, 15 to 9. In the matter of goals scored from the floor the two teams were on even terms. Each aggregation had counted four baskets. The regularity with which Referee E. C. Quigley slapped fouls on the Nebraska aggregation enabled the Missourians to take the lead. During this period Quigley called two fouls on Nebraska because of the "razzing" which the crowd gave him following a pair of decisions. Browning counted on six of seven free throw chances during the first half.

Huskers Show to Advantage.

The guarding of Russell and Milo Tipton and the basket-shooting of Captain Glen Warren featured the Nebraska play. Russell and Tipton smothered the Missouri forwards the greater part of the game and presented one of the best exhibitions of guarding witnessed on the local court this season. Warren caged six field goals, several being from difficult angles.

The Missouri quintet effectively used the short pass. The Tiger five was skillful in its teamwork and pivoting, carrying the ball down the court in a speedy fashion and making its follow-in shots count. Summary:

(Associated Press.)

PUEBLO, Colo., Jan. 23.—Pueblo has been given until the last of this week by A. R. Tearney, president of the Western league, to take over the franchise of the Sioux City, Ia., team. This announcement was made at a meeting last night when committees reported on their success in selling stock to raise enough money to buy the team and finance it for a year. More than enough money has been raised to buy the franchise, but the Pueblo men are unwilling to take it over until they have raised enough in addition to run the team a year, improve the baseball park and purchase new players. It is believed certain this will be done before Saturday. President Tearney announced the call of the Western league club owners' meeting in Kansas City, Mo., for next Monday.

APPROPRIATION TO COVER DEFICIENCY FOR TUBERCULOSIS

House Grants $75,000 But Under Protest From Some Members.

Claim Made Present Method Of Handling Bovine Malady Futile.

Although several farmer legislators declared that bovine tuberculosis work in Nebraska for which the state has already spent $235,000 during the current biennum and is now asked to provide $75,000 more, has not prevented the spread of the disease, the representativa put through to third reading Tuesday forenoon the Keifer bill carrying the latter sum as a deficiency appropriation.

Mr. Moore of Nemaha county told his colleagues that " farmers there turned down the proposition by 90 per cent vote when it was laid before them by a federal agent. Moore asserted that it is like pouring the state's money into a rat-hole to keep on paying indemnities for tubercular animals, when cattle are being continually shipped in from Kansas City and other outside markets for feeding.

In Merrick county, it was asserted by Mr. Osterman, many herds are escaping the tuberculosis test and milk from these herds, is sold for manufactured products without much effort to stamp out the disease except in dairy herds whose milk is sold to the public in its natural form.

An amendment to the bill requiring compulsory testing of all herds was offered by Mr. Jacoby who said he raised purebred cattle and had them tested but his neighbors did not, and as a result his farm was continually being re-infected through pastures and drinking tanks. At Keifer's request he withdrew the amendment, on the understanding that friends of the bill would help change the law to provide for universal compulsory tests before money is appropriated for the next biennium.

Deficiency Is Admitted.

Replying to a question Mr. Keifer frankly admitted that the $75,000 appropriation was for the purpose of making good a deficiency incurred by the late McKelvie administration, which spent $235,000 inside of eighteen months and thus exhausted the fund that was provided for the full biennium.

"That is very interesting," observed Mr. Beushausen. "We were told during the recent campaign, and again on this floor by Governor McKelvie in his message to the legislature, that for the first time in the history of the state no deficiencies had been incurred."

Mr. Keifer explained that the federal government appropriates money for bovine tuberculosis eradiation in Nebraska, but it cannot be used unless the state provides an equal sum, and if the $75,000 deficiency appropriations were not made for the period ending June 30, next, the state would lose $73,000 of federal money which is now available. It was this consideration which influenced the house to vote unanimously for the appropriation, although neither ex-Governor McKelvie nor Governor Bryan recommended it in their budgets.

Prince of Ethiopia Tells What Africa Gave to the World

Military, biblical, and literary contributions of Africa to the world were outlined briefly by Wyxzezuxard S. J. Challoughlizilezise, prince of the royal house Ethiopia and bishop of the Reformed chuch of Ethiopia, before the students of Cotner college this morning.

Elaborating on his subject, "What Africa has Contributed to Civilization," the speaker said that during the biblical age, Ethiopia contributed to the works of Job, King Solomon, Zephaniah, and others. He said that Ethiopia, its people being of the Hamitic race, had a right to its name in the biblical meaning, rather than the Greek.

Africa has given its literary offering to the world through the Phoenicians. This people's works are in the early Hellenic days, and according to the speaker, much of their learning came from the Ethiopians, whose country lay across the Mediterranean.

The Reformed Coptic church through early bible history of the new testament age, from the birth of Christ to 8 SA. D., had a very pronounced influence, he said, in religious life. The first Ethiopian to be Christianized was Indiche, prime minister at the court of Queen Candace.

"The history of African contributions to civilization would be incomplete," continued the speaker, without mention of its military offerngs.

"In the world there were 3,000,000 men, direct from Africa, on the battle fields. This number did not include Madagascarans, Malaysians, or natives from other countries.

"Ethiopia has now taken upon itself the care of 60,000 Africans in the Congo and far into east Africa, natives unable to care for themselves."

Prince Challoughlczilczise is the son of Queen Czedeotiu, the reigning empress of Ethiopa. His father, King Johannes, during his reign, was instrumental in overthrowing the absolute monarchy of that time and setting up a constitutional monarchy in its place. The king died in 1898, after which King Meneick ruled until 1914, when Queen Czdeotiu came to the throne. His brother, Prince Arastarsferas, who has been regent, will be crowned in a few months, as the queen is 118 years old.

Prince Challougblczilczise is touring the country under the auspices of the Reformed Coptic church, and the archaeological and historical societies of Africa.

Chadron Normal

Professor E. P. Wilson, head of the Chadron college history department, delegate to the Nebraska Constitutional convention, and, at present, a member of the state legislature, is reported as serving on the following committees: Constitutional amendments, agriculture and the committee on fees and salaries. The vacancy occasioned by Professor Wilson's serving in the legislature, has been filled by Mrs. W. S. Bostder, former instructor of history in the Chadron high school, and of long experience in school work. The difficulty of taking over classes in some of the advanced history subjects, at this late stage of the semester, is, perhaps not fully appreciated. We are, indeed, fortunate in securing so able an instructor as Mrs. Bostder as a substitute for Professor Wilson.

Saturday morning another of the G. A. A. hikes was enjoyed by twenty-six members of the club, and their director, Miss MacCallum. Let us hope that the sophomore play which will be given in a few weeks will meet with as much enthusiasm and applause as "Clerance."

NEW YORK, Jan 23.—Tennis critics who watched William F. Tilden play yesterday at the Heights Casino, Brooklyn, are of the opinion that the national champion's form plainly showed ill effects from the loss of part of the middle finger on his right hand due to an infection which necessitated an operation early in the winter.

Tilden, paired with Sam Hardy, former Davis cup team captain, lost two formal sets to Watson M Washburn, former internationalist, and Zenzo Shimidsu, Japanese star.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.

Prices were strong in the early part of today's stock market but the gains were cancelled or materially reduced later in response to higher call money rates. Turkish rejection of the British proposals regard the Mosul Oil fields further reports of strikes in the Ruhr district and a sensational drop of 35 points in Fisher Body, part of which was later recorded. Bidding up of rubber shares was a late features. Sales approximated 650,000 shares.

Opening prices in today's stock market were irregular, but in the main, higher. Short covering operations were apparent in some of the leaders which had been depressed yesterday. Baldwin rallying a point and Studebaker and Crucible fractionally. Fisher Body advanced 2¾. The initial demand centered in the oils, motors, independent steers and a few miscellaneous issues.

New high records for the year were established by Owens Bottle, Cluett-Peabody and Piggly Wiggly, the gains ranging from ⅝ to 2 points. Crucible extended its gain to 1⅜ and Steel and Tube preferred to 2 points. Gains of a point each were scored by General Asphalt, New York Central, American Woolen, Brown Shoe, Sears-Roebuck and Famous Players, while substantial fractional advances were recorded by Pan-American A and B, California Petroleum, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Chandler and United Fruit. There were a few weak spots, notably Wilson & Company, which reacted 1¼ points, and Northern Pacific, Reynolds Spring and Willys-Overland preferred, off ½ to ¾. Foreign exchanges opened higher.

Prices hardened materially during the morning, gains of 1 to 2 points being quite common around noon. Trading was relatively light and largely professional. Resumption of operations by speculative pools was evident in a number of shares of companies in which current earnings are reported to be large and which are likely to resume or increase dividends. Piggly Wiggly extended its gain to nearly and Tube preferred to 2½ each. Woolworth reacted 4 points and Great Northern preferred 1⅛. Call money opened at 4 per cent.

Buying of the popular shares stopped when the rates for call money stiffened to 4½ per cent and liquidation of several high priced stocks became more urgent. Fisher Body made a perpendicular slump to 166 after selling at 202, while Woolworth gave way 5 and Kelsey Wheel 3 points. California Petroleum registered a loss of 2⅛ and Beechnut packing 2 points. Kresge, North American, American Woolen, National Lead, American Brake Shoe and Spicer Manufacturing common, were bid up 1¼ to 2 points.

The closing was irregular. A further slump in Fisher Body to 162 and the marking up of call money to 6 per cent caused a further reaction in prices in the late afternoon several active shares extending their losses to 1 and 2 points. Partial recovery took place just before the close when a bullish demonstration was staged in the rubber shares on announcement of another increase in the price of crude product.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 23.

WHEAT—Although buying on the part of houses with eastern and foreign connections made wheat prices average a little higher, during the early dealings today, new declines soon took place. The initial buying was apparently based on strength of European exchange and on a reduction in Italian import duties on flour and other foodstuffs. Sustained demand, however, was lacking and heavy accumulations of wheat at primary terminals had a bearish effect. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to ⅛c higher with May $1.15¾@1.16⅛ and July $1.11⅜@1.11½, was followed by slight gains and then a material setback all around.

Purchases here against sales of Winnipeg turned the wheat market upward today in the last half of the board of trade session. The close was firm, ⅝c to 1c net higher with May $1.16⅝@1.16¾ and July $1.11⅜@1.11½.

A good rally which came later was assisted by word of some export business at the seaboard and by news that the price difference between Argentine wheat c.i.f. Europe and No. 2 hard at ports on the Gulf of Mexico had been greatly narrowed.

CORN—Corn and oats swayed with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, May 71⅜@71⅝c, the corn market reacted to well below yesterday's finish.

In the later dealings May held at a discount under July and September. The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1½c lower, with May 71⅜@71½c.

OATS—Oats started ⅛ to ⅜c off to ⅛c up, May 43⅜@43⅜c. Later, all months scored a little advance and then turned down grade.

PROVISIONS—Provisions were neglected, but nominally steady.

Ulysses Couple Wedded 50 Years

ULYSSES, Neb., Jan. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kelly, old and respected residents of Ulysses, celebrated their golden wedding at their home Friday evening when seventy guests gathered there to surprise them. They brought with them refreshments suitable for the occasion including an immense wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly were married at Bloomington Ill., January 19, 1873, and have been residents of Nebraska for nearly forty years. Their six daughters were among the guests present at the celebration. Music and various games were enjoyed throughout the evening. A purse containing twenty five dollars in gold was presented to the couple as a souvenir of the happy occasion.

SUN TO GO TO CANTON.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 23—Sun Yat Sen, ex-president of the Southern republic, announced today that he would leave next Saturday for Canton, his former capital. His army took the city from Peking nationalists last Wednesday.

for the failure of the young couple to make good and declared that the boy and girl wife went dance and amusement crazy.

Rogers was a linotype operator and obtained part time work on Lincoln papers. About to become a father in January and without funds, he says, he stole an overcoat from the rack in the Miller and Paine tea room and his companion took another, intending to sell them to raise funds. Before he could do that he was arrested and he pleaded guilty to stealing both coats at a fictitious value of $170, he claims, to keep his parents from learning of his plight.

Wife Obtains Divorce.

They did learn however, but his father determined not to help him then but to let him take his punishment. Not yet nineteen years of age, the boy was sentenced to the penitentiary and his wife, after the birth of a baby boy, divorced him. Now the father wants to take his boy, nearly twenty years of age, back to his home to try to help him make good. Rogers' prison record is not of the best, having been reported five times and serving twice in solitary. These he explains as due to disappointment at not being considered for parole when his minimum sentence was completed. He has served fourteen months. The father agrees to return the boy if he can not manage him at home.

Albert Gard, sentenced in Lancaster county to from one to ten years for automobile stealing asked for clemency to rejoin his wife and baby. He has served thirty-seven months in the penitentiary but violated a previous parole by handling stolen cars.

John G. Kruger, sentenced from one to five years for forging his father's name to checks amounting to about $200, while infatuated of a woman, was an applicant for parole and his father asked that he be paroled to him. He has served not quite one year, or his minimum term is up. He is twenty-five years old and his father will give him employment. Others from his home vicinity spoke for him.

Charles Hart, sentenced from Gage county for breaking and entering and given one to ten years on armistice day, 1920, asked for clemency. He is an ex-service man, was seriously wounded and gassed and was discharged unable to work, he claims. He believes he was "framed" for the robbery, which he admits but asks for a chance to earn a living for his parents who are old. Hart is 56 years old.

BILL TO PROVIDE OLD AGE PENSION

duced to exchange or sell property, was indefinitely postponed.

The Warner resolution directed at the abolishment of the present system of issuing tax free securities was passed. Perry Reed of Hamilton was presented with a bouquet at the opening of the session by Lieutenant Governor Johnson, the occasion being the former's birthday. The senate adjourned to 10 a. m. Wednesday. Following is a digest of the bills introduced:

Tuesday Senate Bills.

S. F. 101, by Gumb and McGowan. Licenses all dealers in eggs and requires candling of all eggs bought or sold except during February, March and April.

S. F. 102, by Cooper. Rewrites the state road building law applying to counties of a population less than 40,000, outside of cities and villages. Permits benefits to be assessed not to exceed two miles back on either side of the road, and fixes the apportionment of funds raised in improvement districts—25 per cent to the county at large, 50 per cent to the foot frontage of the actual construction, and 25 per cent to the remaining tracts in the district. Creation of districts requires petitions of 51 per cent of the foot frontage, which must also be 35 per cent of the resident owners, otherwise 60 per cent of the frontage must be signed.

S. F. 103, by Fries and McGowan. Establishes old age pension commission, comprising the lieutenant governor, state superintendent and chancellor of the state university, who shall appoint a superintendent, whose salary shall not exceed $2,000. County boards to co-operate in recommending assistance for aged. Appropriates $50,000 out of the general fund.

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING

People born under this sign are said to be the strongest and weakest people in the world. They are naturally endowed with great possibilities, which when understood and appreciated take them to supreme heights of strength and usefulness, but when neglected or unrecognized, cause them to be creatures of impulse and disturbing desire, positively without equilibrium and blown about by every wind of doctrine.

The sign governing this date is Aquarius, shown on the Zodiac as the water bearer and the last sign of the Air Triplicity. The governing planets are Saturn and Uranus. The birthstone is a white onyx.

HOUSE APPROVES ANTI-KLAN BILL

Measure Is Passed By 66 to 34 Vote, Every Member Responding.

Believe It Will Be Substituted For Like Proposal In Senate.

Passage of the Strehlow anti-Ku-Klux Klan bill, H. R. No. 56, was accomplished in the Nebraska house Tuesday forning by 66 votes to 34, with every member voting. No call of the house was necessary to get the solons on record.

The bill received practically solid support from the Lancaster and Douglas county delegations, Mr. Egger being the only member from Lancaster to vote against it.

Several who voted in opposition sent up writen explanations. Mr. Whitehead declared that he was against it for the seame reason he was against the Ku Klux Klan, "because it excites religious and racial strife."

In the senate, the Strehlow bill will probably be substituted for the one on the same subject which Senators Gumb and Tomek introduced. The clause forbidding a pardon to persons convicted under it, except by uninamious vote of the pardon board, has been eliminated.

Representatives voting "no" on the bill, 34 in number, were Messrs. Amspoker, Beushausen, Brown, Densmore, Donnelly, Dutcher, Egger Essam, Garber, Gordon, Gould, Hall, Harden, Hyde, Keck, Kemper, Lamb, Lundy, McCain, Mitchell, Neff, Orr, Otteman Parkinson, Peterson, Smiley, Staats, Thomassen, Ward, Wells, Whitehead, Wilson, Wise and Wood.

All other members voted for the bill.

FARMERS' UNION FOR INCOME TAX

Shroyer Says Now Farmers Pay and Men of Large Income Protected.

Support of the farmers' union for income tax legislation, is pledged by J. C. Shroyer, secretary of the legislative committee for that organization, in the following statement given to the press Tuesday.

"The farmers' union stands emphatically, both by its general convention and the regular legislative committee, for the putting across of an income tax bill.

"It will secure a lot of money for government support from the very people who use its machinery and laws constantly, who are calling upon the state most loudly for protection and who live in luxury and at the same time enjoy almost complete exemption from taxation.

"The farmer lists his corn in the crib, his cattle in the field and his entire prospective income long before he may realize upon it. It may be burned, struck by lightning, depreciate in price, or blow away in a tornado—it is only a prospective income at best.

"The man with a big income gets by with only a few office fixtures and an automobile. And his total income is protected by liens upon his patrons and clients. Today these people are hounding the legislature to stop and kill all income taxation plans.

"Farmers are busy feeding and taking care of prospective income sources that are heavily taxed long before they are realized upon.

"It is going to be a test and whether we elected a broad-minded legislature with views of justice and equality or not is now to be seen.

'Watch the steps of the income tax bill. It will be a mighty good test."

ATTEMPT TO BURN SLAIN MAN'S AUTO

Albert Girardi Of Omaha Has Head Crushed Near Red Oak, Iowa.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan .23.—Two attempts were made to destroy by fire an automobile in which Albert Girardi, 29, Omaha butter and egg buyer, was found slain yesterday near Red Oak, Ia., after the crime had been commited according to information received here.

Burning brush, placed against the car, damaged it, but went out before an automobile salesman passing the scene, discovered the crime. The second attempt to burn the machine evidently occurred after Girardi's body had been removed to Red Oak, where an inquest was scheduled for today.

Girardi is said to have been active in politics here and detectives are searching for a possible political or business enemy who may have desired his death. Members of Girardi's family, however, said that they knew of no one they suspect. Three hundred dollars, he is said to have had with him when he left Omaha Monday is missing. A blunt instrument evidently was used to kill him. His head being crushed.

Indiana Mayor Is Up In Arms Over Result of Probe

Actress Tells Secret

Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With a Home-Made Mixture.

Joicey Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it, with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1-4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Advertisement.

NEXT REEL FILM STORY DELAYED

Fans Have to Wait Month to Hear Rest of the Clark Case.

(International News Service.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 23.—Court fans will be forced to wait thirty days for the next reel of the love story of Dorothy Clark, 17-year-old rancer, and Herbert Rawlinson film star, as told in the $200,000 suit brought b ythe dancer who alleges Rawlinson attacked her when she was 14.

The case was in adjournment for that period due to the illness of the girl's mother, Mrs. Ethel Clark. The adjournment came in the midst of the story of the girl on the stand.

Miss Clark had testified regarding the actor's atentions to her beginning when she went to his studio to have him autograph a picture. Rawlinson contends his interest was merely friendly and to gain the girl an entrance in films.

Dozens of love letters which Rawlinson was alleged to have written to Miss Clark in 1918, when she was 13 years old, were read to the jury.

"My Own Darling Dorothy," was the way most of them began.

Following is the way some of them ended:

"Always your Herb,"

"By-bye, my own sweet little girl."

"Take care of your dear self."

"Lots of love and kisses."

"Here is a great big, long kiss. Herb."

The theory that Mrs. Phillips might have fled to China was revived with the receipt from Tacoma of information that she was seen in the lobby of a prominent hotel there on December 3. She was in the company of another woman and man, it is said.
